RSC LOVES CAMP FANTASTIC

My First Visit to Camp Fantastic

By Barbara Hodge

On Sunday, 8/12/18, Paul and I met the rented van at Bill Boyer's house at 8:30 a.m. to ride with several others to the beautiful mountains of Virginia for the opening day of Camp Fantastic week. If you have ever taken a van or bus trip with members of Richmond Shag Club, then you know the fun starts the minute you board! Doughnut holes and mimosas were only turned down by the driver (mimosas, not the doughnuts). After stopping along the way for a late breakfast, we arrived at the Northern Virginia 4-H Center near Front Royal around lunch time to discover with surprise that a delicious salad, sandwich and dessert bar awaited us if we wanted to eat again with the camp counselors and staff. We chose to partake of iced tea and brownies and to walk around the gorgeous campground and plush facilities.

Around 2:00 p.m. the campers arrived on very large buses, and we joined the counselors and staff in loud claps, cheers and shouts of welcome as the campers disembarked. The excitement and energy of the crowd was truly infectious. In spite of a sudden thunderstorm and downpour of rain, some of us helped the staff unload luggage from the buses and get all the pieces to the correct rooms in the bunk houses.

Next on the agenda was...MORE FOOD! A snack table was set up for everyone which was loaded with piles of wings, tomatoes and cheese and veggie trays to which small groups came in orderly turns. I wandered over to the crafts room to watch the campers draw pictures on fabric squares with permanent markers for a camp quilt. Soon after that, over 100 campers, ages 7-17, managed to change into swim clothes and make their way down to the enormous double-L-shaped swimming pool for their swim tests. Thankfully the rain clouds had moved off the mountain and the pool looked very inviting.

At poolside, our group took on the task of attaching colored bracelets to the swimmers' wrists to indicate which area of the pool they could access all through the camp week. The red and gold bracelets indicated limited access to either the shallow end or the shallow-to-deep leg of the pool. The most coveted bracelet was purple, which allowed the wearer to use the diving board in the deepest end. To be awarded purple, the camper had to swim the longest section of the deep end without stopping, and as they neared the finish ladder, counselors, lifeguards and shaggers all began cheering and whistling to urge them on. We bravely held back our tears at the sight of so many surgical scars, medical ports, bald heads and other ravages of cancer as we attached bracelets to wrists while the campers gasped for breath but grinned widely at the same time. Then most of the purple band owners dashed around the cement pad for turns on the diving board. Meanwhile, the shallow ends of the pool were roiling with lots of splashing and laughing by the campers who qualified to be at those ends.

I was amazed at the large, well-qualified medical staff on board for the week or for parts of it. Before the swim tests, each child had to stop at the staff station to have sunscreen carefully applied to all exposed body parts. Only a small handful of campers could not get in the water, so staff members walked around with those students or organized a rousing game of UNO at a shaded picnic table. I took a moment to chat with one such boy seated with an aide near the diving board end. He held a cane and was obviously blind but with an enormous smile on his face and a very quick wit. Suddenly from the diving board came a huge splash, and the blind boy asked me, "Did I just hear a Belly Flop?" I told him that it looked like a Cannonball dive to me but that the swimmer had held one knee up and the other leg straight down. My new friend said, "Oh that's called a Can Opener. For a Cannonball dive you hold both knees up!" He happily explained the difference to anyone wishing to listen!

After completion of the swim tests, towels came out and some campers changed to dry clothes from their backpacks for the next event...MORE FOOD! We all migrated to an enormous picnic shelter where a professional band played music and a volunteer group was setting up cookout food-- hamburgers, hotdogs, grilled veggies, baked beans, slaw, potato salad and oversized cookies. The process of serving was slow, because each camper had to stop by the camp doctor's chair first for the required brief daily interview, then move on to the nurses' station for hand sanitizer and small cups of medication, as needed. We shaggers spent some time before dinner doing a little dancing. Our tennis shoes would have been a challenge if the cement floor hadn't been slick from the earlier shower plus the humidity so that we could easily twist and turn when the music was right.

After dinner, the crowd migrated once again to the swimming area for room by room introductions of campers, many of whom were returning from previous years. I learned that about half of the adult counselors were former Camp Fantastic campers themselves. Next came the Sunday evening social, a pool party. Back into the sparkling water jumped most of the campers, while the Richmond Shag Club guests set up speakers, extension cords, etc. to add a bit of beach music to the party. We shagged and some of the counselors and one camper came over for a mini shag lesson. When the music shifted to line dancing, a huge crowd of counselors and campers joined us. Finally, about 7:30 p.m. we took down the audio equipment and said our good-byes for the 2018 camp week. In spite of the long day, I would not trade anything for being part of this experience. Paul and I have donated regularly to the 50/50 ticket sales for Camp Fantastic through the Richmond Shag Club, but seeing where the money goes and all the happy smiles on real faces was priceless. If there was any conversation or fun to be had on the ride home, I couldn't tell you. I was ASLEEP!

I highly recommend that you try to set aside one full day in August, 2019 for this wonderful volunteer opportunity.

Greetings from the President —Steve Bateson

The first weekend in August the Richmond Shag Club held their annual Boogie on the James Party. From all the comments I received it was a great party once again. There are several individuals and groups I want to thank for the success of the Party. First to Judy Petree and Beth Crews for their leadership planning, decorating and pulling off a great Party. I also want to thank the floor crew that put down the dance floor, and took it back up under the leadership of Dwight Hash! To Scott Campbell and Nikki Kontoulas for coming and providing dance instruction and providing entertainment at the party with their spot light dances. To our DJs, Ed Timberlake, Gary Harman, and Pete Saunders, thank you for playing the tunes and keeping the dance floor busy! Also, thanks to Bev Dillard and Nancy Verser for putting together a most successful Silent Auction. See Nancy's article on the next page. If you missed the Annual Party this year, please think about attending next year.

August is almost over, and September is just around the corner. And, with September coming that means SOS Fall Migration is also coming up! I can't wait to go North Myrtle Beach once again to dance, learn new steps and party. Once again, there will be a Virginia Shag Clubs Free Pour on Friday September 21, 2018 at Ducks from 1:00 to 4:00 pm. See the flyer on this page.

See you on the Dance Floor!

Silent Auction —Boogie on the James

— Nancy Verser

Wow! Another amazing Boogie on the James party!

Bev Dillard and I would like to thank those who took the time from their busy day to help make the Silent Auction a big success. Thanks to all who made baskets, blankets, shrugs, and child's car seat covers, hand stitched Christmas cards, hats, shawls, one big beautiful flamingo sculpture and many more hand-made items. Of course we also had several pieces of jewelry, restaurant gift cards, paintings, framed photo, golf passes and so much more. For those of you who don't know all of the proceeds are donated to Camp Fantastic to make sure children with cancer can have at least a few days of nothing but FUN. The number of shag friends and family involved is overwhelming and Bev and I want each of you to know how much we appreciate your time and effort. Drum roll – with your help the Richmond Shag Club Silent Auction raised $7085 for Special Love Camp Fantastic.

Boogie On The James -Party

-Beth Crews

Our Annual Party, Boogie On The James was a big success! We sold 220 tickets: 187 for the full weekend, 25 for Saturday only and 8 for Friday only. Representatives from 11 Shag Clubs came from 8 states to participate in all the fun. They enjoyed dancing to the music of Ed Timberlake and our own Gary Harman on Friday and Saturday nights, and swimming to the tunes of Pete Saunders at the Pool Party on Saturday. We learned the "Swizzle" line dance from Jan Weakley and some great new steps from Nikki Kontoulas and Scott Campbell, who also entertained us with some inspiring exhibition dances on Friday and Saturday nights. Many thanks to all who took time to help lay out the dance floor on Friday morning and pick it back up on Sunday, and to those who manned the Registration desk and helped get everyone checked in. David and Julie Ferry were very creative with the Free Pour Room and kept the good drinks flowing. Bill Boyer took some wonderful pictures all weekend and posted them to the website for all to enjoy, so check out the memories or see what fun you missed and plan to join us next year! I also want to thank everyone who donated to the Barrow of Booze. Thanks to Ron Brooks, who kept track of all the donations and all the volunteers who sold Barrow of Booze raffle tickets and 50/50 raffle tickets throughout the party. Judy Petree and her band of decorators did a great job blowing up balloons (Thanks Parker for the helium!) and making the ballroom look fabulous for our Masquerade! Many thanks for all the positive feedback about the party. I could not have done it without all the help from Judy Petree, Joan Byrnes and support from Steve Bateson, Mike Walton and all the many behind the scenes volunteers. It takes a "village" to pull this off and I appreciate each and every one of you!

Shag Preservation..... past, present and future Junior Shaggers in Action!

Submitted by Marsha Tedesco

Shellbi Lipscomb, Chesterfield Virginia

On Saturday night of Jr SOS, our Virginia junior shagger, Shellbi Lipscomb was recognized in an aging out ceremony for all young adults turning 21. Shellbi attended her first JR SOS at the age of 14 and fell in love with the dance, music and people. Over the last several years, Shellbi was a Jr Shag Ambassador at Jr SOS, learned DJ skills from Larry Edwards, participated in dance competitions, danced for dollars for VJSI, taught shag to other junior shaggers and became a favorite dance partner with many young dancers at Jr SOS. Now 21, she will still be active in JR SOS by becoming an adult volunteer to further promote the shag to the next generation.

Special Thanks To Northern Virginia.....

On July 28, 2018, Northern Virginia held their annual party with guest Jr instructors Jackson and Lizzie Batten. An invitation was extended to VJSI to have any Virginia Jr Shagger who might be available after Jr SOS, come and do a spotlight dance for their annual party guests. Mason Clark, Skylar Degner, Sierra Lipscomb, Shellbi Lipscomb and Ava Farlow kindly volunteered to attend the function in DC and were welcomed with open arms. These young people, with all levels of experience, smiled and danced with each other and with party guests, They represented themselves and Jr, Shaggers so well, and they collected donations of over $600 for Virginia Junior Shaggers, Inc. Thank you again Northern Virginia for your one-on-one support of these young shaggers and your generosity towards Junior Shag Programs.

Future Junior Events:

Please mark your calendar now for the largest junior function in Virginia. We need everyone's support, so please bring your young family members or just come to help our future shaggers.

Virginia Junior Shag Program Recognized at Jr SOS

Virginia Junior Shaggers, Inc. was surprised on Saturday evening of Jr SOS with a special recognition and generous donation from Nanci Donald, owner of Carolina Shag Shoes. Gene Pope, President of the Junior Shag Association, requested Sam West, Ashley Stewart and our own Richmond Shag Club member, Joyce Burnley, to come forward and be recognized for their individual promotion of the shag through the two dance teams and VJSI junior shag program. At this time, Nanci presented each person with a check to assist with their junior shag programs. Nanci Donald has been a vendor at Virginia Shag Club's annual parties for several years, so please stop by her traveling shoe store and thank her for supporting our Virginia Junior Shaggers in such a generous way.

Virginia Junior Shaggers Attend Junior SOS – 2018

First of all, I would like to personally thank all family members who take the time out of their busy summer schedules to bring their young shaggers to JR SOS in North Myrtle Beach. It's a long and tiring week for all participants, but the smiles you see as indicated in the pictures below, are priceless.

Our young people, approximately 20, represented the State of Virginia with poise, smiles, positive energy and were enthusiastic in all activities. We had two of our Virginia Jr Shaggers, Sierra Lipscomb and Mason Clark, selected to be Jr Ambassadors for 2018 JR SOS, which required them to work in several capacities throughout the week in addition to social dancing. The Junior Ambassador Program requires their ambassadors to be 16 or older and meet a strict code of behavior and willingness to help.

Many of our Virginia junior dancers were selected in a new program called "spotlight dance" in which they were selected by an Ambassador who noted their commitment to learning the shag and danced at the beginning of each evening with their sponsor. In addition, Richmond Shag Club members Gary and Dawn Harman's grandson, Skylar Degner, was selected to be interviewed by the local television station during JR SOS. I was so impressed with Skylar; he represented Virginia well by being poised and very articulate during his interview on camera. We may have a rising reporter on our hands.

We were proud of all our Virginia Juniors. I believe all of them participated in the daily dance qualifiers and final competition on Saturday night. Our dance will be in good hands....

On behalf of Virginia Shaggers, I would like to thank the Jr SOS board, Clubs and volunteers for doing a fantastic job with this event. Mark your calendars for next year, July 16 – 20, 2019.

-Marsha
